THE MAN AT THE HELM . . .

CASE BOLDERHEY

This year's president of the Alberta branch, Royal Caledonian Curling Club, literally started at the bottom. He began curling in Flaxcombe, Saskatchewan in 1924 in a two-sheet rink where the members hauled water to make the ice. Curling fees were $5 for the year.

Case Bolderhey is 62, an often outspoken, always fair curling enthusiast. He's a regular in many of the bonspiels and has also gone a ways in Consols competition.

He's a member of the Glencoe, and has been since moving from the Calgary Curling Club in 1949.

For the last five years he looked after the prizes for the annual branch bonspiel, producing the finest prize lists the event has seen. He has been on the executive of the branch for ten years, always taking a keen interest in its affairs and speaking out whenever he felt an injustice was being done.

He was born in Holland, has always been active in the construction business. He and his popular wife, Rosalie, enter many of the mixed bonspiels.

"The Dutchman," as he has become known, is a popular figure in the curling sphere. He's an acknowledged crib expert and spends much of his time at a summer home on Lake Windermere. He also water-skis and hunts with some enthusiasm.

His year in the presidency will be an active one.

. . . AND HIS MESSAGE

This is the third issue of the branch annual and that, in itself, is adequate evidence of the support and enthusiasm that has greeted the publication since it was first published back in 1960. The annual has done just what it was hoped it would do—provide a means of liaison among the districts, provide a flow of information among the members and offer a place where winners and records could be listed for all time. The records of the branch are vital, and assembling them in this fashion not only preserves them, but makes them readily accessible.

I take considerable pride in being president of a branch of a sport which continues to grow as many others decline. Attendance in both football and hockey, for example, has fallen off in many places, baseball is non-existent here and even the other participant sports seem hard-pressed to muster the enthusiasm that curling does. For this, I think, curling can thank itself. It has stuck strictly to its principles, and sportsmanship has always been a major factor. Then, too, curling hasn't attempted to extend its season beyond logical limits.

Outside of a few summer bonspiels which are more of a holiday adventure than anything else, curling confines itself to the winter months and the artificial ice hasn't really changed this. Thus the curlers never weary of their sport and can start each new season with commendable enthusiasm.

I think some major decisions are going to confront the branch in the near future, decisions that will require the wisdom of executive and members alike.

I have been very disappointed, too, to learn how little active interest some of the conveners take in the affairs of their district. It doesn't seem unreasonable that if a man takes on the job of convener, then he should be prepared to assume the obligations. Being a convener isn't easy. But it's often rewarding. And the branch is only as active as the conveners care to make it, by seeing that the members have reason to be interested.

And the branch must never stand still. As there were new problems to be faced and dealt with ten years ago, new ones exist. I hope to attend many meetings throughout the branch and to discuss with as many members as possible all their suggestions and criticisms.

I think it will be most enjoyable. I hope everyone co-operates so that it will be a most productive year.

THE BRANCH

The Alberta branch, Royal Caledonian Curling Club of Scotland, handles the administration of the sport over an area covering many tens of thousands of square miles—stretching from Red Deer in the north to the U.S. border in the south, from the Saskatchewan border on the east to the British Columbia border on the west.

Within this area reside thousands of curlers, probably 15,000 of them directly affiliated with the branch. Simply, the branch attempts to see that the curlers enjoy the game to the fullest and are able to pursue it under the best possible circumstances. Every club, however small or however large, is an integral part of the branch's vast membership.

The need for the administrative talents of the branch has become more and more evident throughout the years as the game has enjoyed unprecedented popularity and grown at a rate at one time considered impossible. Curling is one of the nation's major sports.

THE BENEFITS

The branch is no one-way street. As members pay to belong, so the branch reciprocates with services and benefits that would not be possible without an organization of this kind. Playoffs among both the schoolboys and the men are directed from the lowest level right to the time when a provincial champion is declared.

The branch, too, has excellent financial reserves which are made available to the members on a loan basis for capital projects. The branch also owns matched rocks which are made available to the clubs for bonspiels. This year, for the first time, two bursaries were awarded to deserving members of Taylor, Pearson and Carson playdowns.

Each year, in Calgary, a branch bonspiel is held. It offers one of the finest prize-lists in the Dominion. The branch stands ready, too, with free advice for any club which has encountered difficulties. It assists in coordinating other bonspiel dates.

THE ADMINISTRATION

At the core of the branch is the executive which calls annual and semi-annual meetings to which all clubs can send delegates. The president, this year Case Bolderhey, and Secretary-treasurer Charlie Scott deal largely with the daily administration.

In each of the 16 districts is a convener who is responsible for the operation within his district and who reports regularly to the executive. The conveners are charged with arranging all details of the playoffs, among other things. Without their loyal support and hard work, the branch would lack the stability that it enjoys today.

THE ANNUAL

This is the third year the branch has printed an annual, dealing with all activities within the branch during the past year. It is designed to acquaint the members with the internal workings of the organization and give them an opportunity to view the branch as a whole. Complete records are contained in the annual, as well as items of interest to all members. Around 15,000 of the annuals are printed each year and distributed to every member, at no extra cost. The annual provides a means of communication among all the districts. In charge of the publication this season was Ray Kingsmith, president of the Calgary Curling Club.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Officials of the Alberta branch, RCCC, wish to thank the many advertisers who have made this annual possible. Their continued support and co-operation have played vital roles. The officials, too, urge the members to support as fully as possible the firms whose advertisements are contained within these pages. A vote of thanks is also due The Albertan Commercial Printing Department who handled the entire printing of this, the third issue. Editor of the annual is Johnny Hopkins of the Calgary Herald and the cover design is by Nels Macdonald.

THE STORY OF THE BURSARIES

BILL MURRAY, DICK HEIKKINEN, GARRY SHIERMAN, CASE BOLDERHEY

The first winners of the Alberta branch, Royal Caledonian Curling Club, bursaries both come from smaller centres.

The names of the successful applicants, from a field of 16, were announced in October by Charlie Scott, branch secretary.

They are Garry Shierman, of Midnapore; and Richard Heikkinen of Benalto. Both are 17.

The bursary program, first of its kind for any curling association in Canada, was established last fall by the executive of the Alberta branch.

The branch was able to embark on the venture because of the profits from the Canadian schoolboy curling championships here in 1959 and the Canadian curling championships (Brier) held here in 1961.

The bursaries are worth $300 apiece and can be used at any university.

It is planned to award the bursaries each year, and it's possible that they will be increased and enlarged.

To qualify for the bursaries, the boys had to play on a rink in Taylor, Pearson and Carson competition; have a good scholastic standing and show some justification for financial assistance.

Some applicants with superb marks were passed over because of their families' financial security.

Members of the selection committee were Ken Anderson, chairman, a past president of the branch; Rev. W. J. Collett of Mount Royal College; Art Fredell, Calgary high school principal and a former president of the branch; and Bill Murray, convener for high school curling in Calgary.

Garry Shierman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shierman of Midnapore, has curled for six years and participated in the TPC playdowns four times, last spring as skip.

He attended Okotoks high school, receiving proficiency awards in mathematics, chemistry and physics in grade XII. He will continue his chemistry studies at the University of Alberta, Calgary. He completed his Grade XII with an average of 71.

He has two brothers and one sister, played basketball and baseball as well as curling.

Dick Heikkinen had an average of 84 in the Grade XII exams and will study engineering at the University of Alberta in Edmonton.

He took most of his schooling in Benalto and also attended Red Deer High School for two years. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heikkinen, and has two brothers and three sisters.

He competed in the Southern Alberta TPC playoffs for the first time last year, playing second on the Red Deer rink that went to the final before losing out to Drumheller. He also helped organize high school curling in Benalto.

Case Bolderhey, president this season of the Alberta branch, termed both boys "exactly the type we were looking for. The choices were excellent."

TEN YEARS AGO

These were some of the skips heading north to the Edmonton bonspiel: Jack Ruttan, Howard Palmer, Irl England, Archie Murgatroyd and Dr. York Blaney. . . . And these were some of the skips in the Southern Alberta British Consols, being played at Victoria Arena: Bill Waldron of Swalwell, Bill Alexander of Banff, Art Simpson of Bassano, Orwell Stewart of Macleod, Lloyd Hubbs of Medicine Hat, Bill Allan of Olds, Bill Kennedy of Claresholm, Stu Beagle of Blackie, Bill Watson of Calgary and Larry Coates of Cereal. Simpson went on to win, then dumped Dr. Harry Jones in the provincial final at Edmonton. He couldn't click at Winnipeg in the Brier, though.

The plumbers' bonspiel in Lethbridge was won by Ken Anderson of Calgary, later to become president of the branch. Bill Hunter of Lethbridge won the fifth event in the same bonspiel. . . . A Calgary-born mountie, Tommy Tomelin, skipped the rink that won the Newfoundland Consols and moved on to the Brier. . . . Tim Miller, then of Calgary, showed his heels to the rest of the rinks in the annual Olds bonspiel. Herb Sinclair of Didsbury got in his licks, too, picking up an eight-ender.

Ken Watson, with three Dominion championships behind him, was warning the nation that to make the slide illegal would put a damper on curling. He was at the schoolboy championships in the Maritimes and was replying to an Alberta Curling Association suggestion that the rock should be delivered at or before the T-line. They heeded Watson's words.

The Taber bonspiel got back down to work after a week's delay because of warm weather, a problem that used to plague all the clubs in the branch. . . . Harold McKean of Raymond, who won the Grand Aggregate in the Lethbridge shirtsleeve in 1951, started up where he left off and won his first two games. . . . The first policemen's bonspiel ever held in the province was run off in Edmonton and the then Edmonton police chief, Reg Jennings, beat them all. . . . Winnipeg was promising that the Brier of that year would be the best ever.

Under Convener Art Butcher, large District Three has been divided into east and west sections. In the east are Medicine Hat, Irvine, Elkwater, Hilda, Schuler, Ralston and Bow Island. In the West are Taber, Rolling Hills, Vauxhall, Grassy Lake, Burdette, Foremost and Hays. Scandia has been moved into district seven.

Norm Thompson of Taber is assistant convener and he will handle the playoff arrangements in the west section. Playoffs in both sections will be held on or before January 20 and the top four clubs from each section then will meet in Taber not later than January 26 to establish a district representative.

Taylor, Pearson and Carson playoffs will be held in Taber, January 19.

The Taber club last season finished upstairs club-rooms at a cost of $3,500. Event winners in the Taber bonspiel were Ken Patterson (Taber), Ken Blaney (Vauxhall), N. Thompson (Taber), R. Saunders (Taber), J. Sasaki (Taber) and M. Onashi (Taber). Ken Blaney of Vauxhall won the aggregate.

The Irvine club had a busy year, putting in artificial ice, installing new lunch counters and buying new rocks. Event winners in the club's bonspiel were Phil Pudwill (Medicine Hat), J. Milford (Elkwater), Ed Schneider (Irvine) and Don Mierau (Medicine Hat). On the rink representing the club in the district playdowns were August Schlaht, Jim Schlinker, George Schlaht and Bert Ehrmani.

The Rolling Hills rink in the Consols playdowns was comprised of William Lester, Darryl Lester, Darryl Daniels and Garry Patterson. The club was not represented in the TPC playdowns.

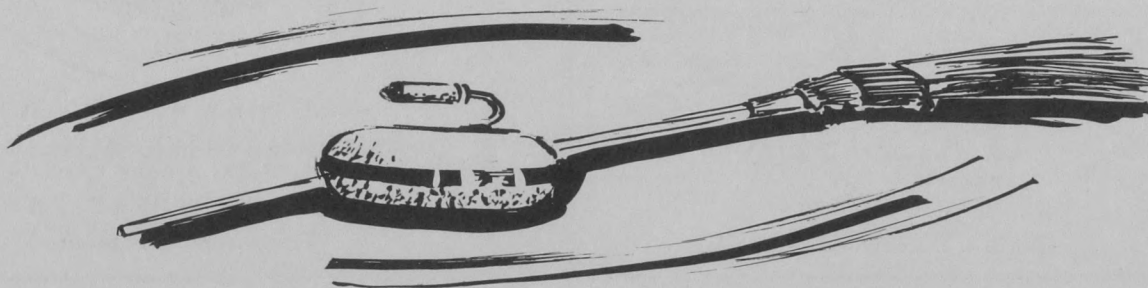

The Ralston club is active among the juniors, organizing boys and girls in the 12-14 bracket and holding bonspiels for them. Event winners in the club's annual bonspiel were J. Kramer, I. Milligan, A. McDonell. On the rink representing the club in the district Consols playdowns were R. A. Klymchuk, N. Nowicki, A. McDonell and T. Strok. The Ralston club also purchased a motor and compressor last year.

The Foremost club attracted 28 rinks to its annual bonspiel. Here are the event winners: Fred Kalicum (first and second), Wally Granberg (third), Charlie Hougen (fourth) with the aggregate going to the Kalicum rink. Club representatives in the Consols playdowns were Art Weibe, J. A. Bain, Jake Staldine and Weston Granberg. Foremost this year will use a new, three-sheet artificial ice club, part of the spacious Foremost and District Civic Centre.

At Medicine Hat improvements go on constantly at the club with an upstairs club room just completed. Eighty-eight rinks took part in the annual bonspiel with Tim Miller, who also won the district Consols, taking two events and the aggregate. Other event winners were R. McKibben of Taber, and Bill Haysom and Art Butcher of Medicine Hat. With Miller on his Consols rink were Marv Woelfle, Tom Dice and Lloyd Hubbs.

At the Bow Island Club, W. G. Townsend won the first and second events and the aggregate in the annual bonspiel. On the club's rink in the district Consols playdowns were A. Gravelle, Ron Adams, W. G. Townsend and Mike Gyorfi.

District TPC crown was won by the Vauxhall rink of Lyle Davis, Don Ross, Marv Bleny and Bob Dunsmore.

George Menzies of Picture Butte, winner of the 1959 Southern Alberta Consols crown, again represented the district in the southern playoffs. On his rink were John Barron, E. Porkka and Kit Forshner. At the Picture Butte club, they're making plans for a new kitchen and waiting room. Representing Picture Butte in the district TPC playdowns were K. Tamura, W. Menzies, G. Ginley and G. Price.

Picture Butte also held an invitational bonspiel during the year with 37 rinks. On the rink winning the first event were T. Oikawa, J. Kulka, M. Passmore and M. Yoshida. The rink also won the second event and the aggregate. Skipping rinks winning other events were L. Dunn, M. Johnson and C. Adams.

Representing Turin in the district playdowns were Len Dunn, Nick Stronski, John Kubik and Bill Edwards. The club held one jackpot bonspiel and a few inter-club competitions.

Carmangay held four bonspiels during the year. Event winners in the annual bonspiel were Glen Crow of Barons, A. Soderquist of Carmangay, J. Gray of Carmangay and Hegland of Champion, who won two events and the aggregate. On the Carmangay rink in the Consols playoffs were A. Soderquist, L. Roemmele, G. Prusky and B. White.

TPC club winners were L. Stettner, R. Hurnanen, D. Hubka and B. Roemmele. The Carmangay club feels that much of its success stems from interesting other members of the community in bonspiels and other social activities. It is hoped that the club will be able to wipe out its indebtedness during this season, much of which came from the installation of artificial ice in 1959-60. An interesting feature of the club which draws support throughout the district is a 500 Club Association which holds an annual bonspiel and membership in this club entitles members to a chance on a new car each year.

Claresholm had 25 rinks for its bonspiel with Adam Linton winning the first and fourth events and the grand aggregate. Other event winners were Mike Bowie and William Brown.

On the Claresholm rink in the Consols playdowns were Oscar Markle, Duane Bishop, Gordon Brown and Otto Volstad. The TPC rink from the club was made up of Bruce Botheras, Tommy Cochlan, Denny Anderson and S. Sparkes.

EXCITEMENT . . . 1962 STYLE

Hec Gervais of Edmonton and Jimmy Shields of Calgary met in the 1962 Alberta Consols final at the North Hill Club.

It was one of the most tense battles in the history of the event, ending with Gervais heading for his second straight appearance in the Canadian curling championship at Kitchener-Waterloo.

What began as a best-of-three series with Shields ended in a last rock, sink-or-swim situation for Hec.

It was the final shot in the 12th end of the sudden death third game. And Gervais, who held a one-point lead, was looking at three well positioned Shields counters as he made the long jaunt to the hack.

The heat was on but good. But it didn't faze the then Canadian and world champion. With perfect, cool weight, he came down on Shields' shot stone, hit and rolled slightly in toward the centre of the rings for the 8-6 victory.

Gervais, with Ron Anton at third, Ray Werner second and Wally Ursuliak leading, was unsuccessful in his defence of the Canadian crown March 5-10.

The series will probably go down as one of the greatest in the history of provincial granite warfare.

Shields, the southern king, was never better. He and third Ron Northcott, Ron Baker and Fred Storey were superb all the way, coming back to even the series with a clutch 9-6 afternoon decision after bowing 10-7 in the morning opener.

1. They started off playing straight knockout until Shields, with his first rock, hit and stuck in front. Gervais, with his last, barely made the hog line with a come-around attempt and Shields replied with a magnificent effort, coming down on his short stone, chipping it into the rings and rolling in himself for two.

2. Anton missed an opportunity to wick two into the house when he was heavy with his last rock but Hec made a final draw, then an open hit and stayed to pick up two of his own.

3. They went back to the bang-bang-bang bit again but Shields, attempting to blank the frame, hit and stayed for one.

4. Anton got Gervais out of a jam when he erased three of four Shields counters with his first. Then Gervais went to the freeze game and wound up having to draw against another four with his last rock to count one.

5. They kept a clean house again all the way. Shields, with his first, drew to a Gervais stone in play but out of the rings at the back. Hec cleaned both rocks off, rolled out himself and Jimmy elected to fire his last rock through and blank it.

6. Shields had an opportunity for two until Northcott, on a takeout attempt, rolled onto his own stone and took it out. With his last brick, Jimmy hit and stuck for a single point.

7. Gervais grabbed the lead for the first time with a big two. Anton set things up with a perfect freeze. And Shields tried to clean house but hit head on and knocked his own back rock out of play. Gervais then chipped out Jimmy's shot rock and rolled, Shields got Hec's stone and stayed and Hec punched out Jimmy's for the deuce.

8. Northcott missed both his rocks allowing Gervais to split the house. But Shields, with his last stone, drew the eight-foot cold for a single.

9. Gervais intentionally rolled out with his last hit to blank the end after the skips had traded takeouts at the back of the house.

10. Gervais kept the front clean until Anton's second shot. Then he changed to the come-around game and plunked his first stone on the four-foot. Shields was a foot heavy trying to freeze with his second, bumped the Gervais rock back and left Hec the chance to hit and stay for another pair. He did.

11. Gervais began hitting everything in sight. Shields resorted to freeze tactics but they didn't pay off and he was forced to execute a perfect lay-up to wipe out three Gervais counters and post one.

12. Northcott set up a possible come-back by hiding one behind a guard. Anton tried to run the guard onto the shot rock but missed by inches, rolling the Shields counter into the open and leaving another guard in front. Shields hid behind the guard again and Gervais came up right alongside to lay in the four-foot. Then Jimmy elected to hit and roll a few feet and made the shot perfectly to sit three and leave it up to Hec with last rock.

The Edmonton rink bombed Shields with a four-ender on the fifth end of the first game and coasted to victory. Shields fanned an open takeout with his last rock and only got one of two he was trying for with his first on the crucial end.

In the afternoon Gervais threatened to brew up a storm again in the fifth end and wound up counting three to tie up the match. Shields made a magnificent double kill to get the three points back in the ninth end however, and it gave him the margin of victory.

The Scott Ellis rink of High River won the district Consols crown. On the rink with Ellis were Dan Macdonald, Don Blair and Belford Quon. In the school-boys it was the Turner Valley rink of Gordon Stauffer, Art Patterson, Lawrence Simmons and Pete Daye.

During the year, Austin Macleod, head of the Oil-fields Curling Club financial committee for four years, was honored at a club meeting.

Mr. Macleod spearheaded the club's drive for funds for construction of the arena. The drive raised $60,000 and the club is now debt-free.

Club members are from Black Diamond, Turner Valley, Longview, Kew and Millarville. Gene Geroux, of Turner Valley, is president.

Mr. Geroux told of the work of the financial committee and thanked all the members who donated time and effort to the project.

He then presented a gold watch to Mr. Macleod. His wife, Mrs. Audrey Macleod, was given a bouquet of roses by Mrs. Ken Bird, president of the women's section.

The Okotoks club had 54 rinks in its annual bonspiel with Parradee, F. Lomenda, McCambly and Rockafellow winning the events.

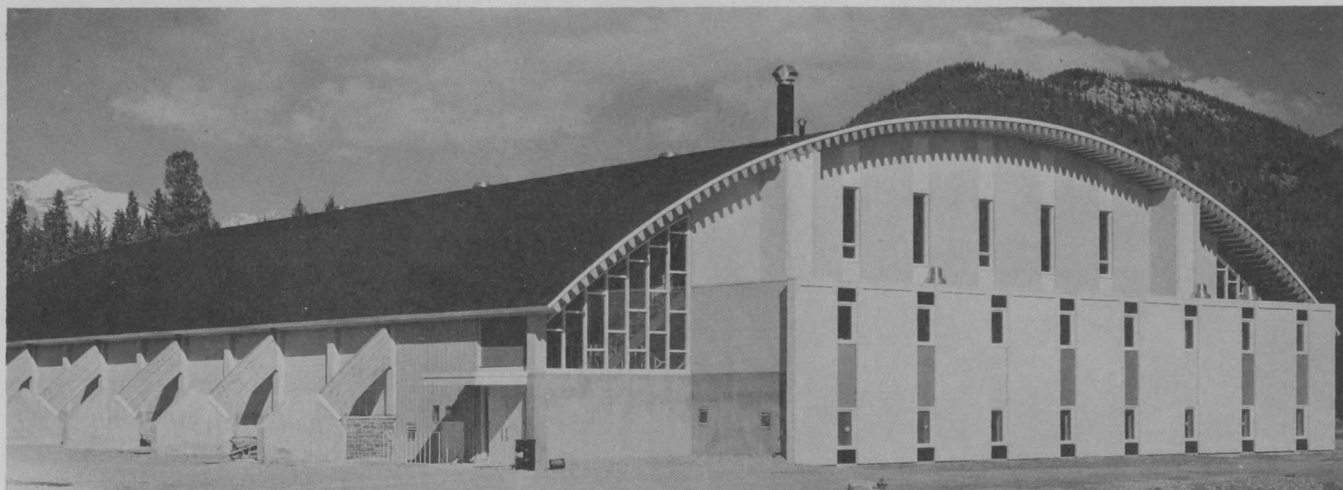

On the club rink in the Consols playdowns were George Lowe, Bill Snodgrass, R. A. Snodgrass and D. McKay. The TPC rink was made up of Garry Schierman, Norman Murray, Doug Milligan and George Cushon.

NEW MOUNTAIN RINK

Eight-sheet rink in a mountain playground

Newest addition to the branch's curling facilities is the eight-sheet Banff rink, part of the vast recreation centre in the mountain resort community.

The eight-sheet artificial ice rink, which cost $225,000, had its first rock thrown on March 8.

The official opening, at which Northern Affairs Minister Walter Dinsdale was present, was held April 2.

The new rink replaces the old Banff rink which was so much a part of the branch's curling history.

Mr. Dinsdale, at the official opening, said the club marked a new era for the national park community. And Eldon Woolliams, MP for Bow River, said the rink was a monument to the politicians, civil servants and Banff citizens who fought to build it. He called it a "symbol of co-operation."

Bob Campbell, 92, who was secretary-treasurer of the first Banff Club back in 1898, recalled some of the early days.

There was one sheet then lighted by coach lanterns, at the old Brett Hospital. "We used to set the lanterns on the ice for the skips to shoot," he said.

The first bonspiel had an entry of four rinks but the biggest in those days was in 1908 won by Don Irvin. One of the prizes was false teeth, he said, and Dan Lucy of Calgary won those. He refused to have his teeth pulled to use the prize so they were fitted to his landlady who carried the prize to her grave.

Rev. Tom Lonsdale, a United Church Minister in Banff for 32 years and now retired, dedicated the rink and Mr. Dinsdale presented Mr. Nelson with the key to the rink in exchange for the shovel he used to turn the first sod last August 13. Mr. Patrick, Mr. Dinsdale and Mr. Woolliams were presented with Banff Curling Club pins by president John Peatfield.

It was early in March that the new club for the first time echoed to the shouts of "sweep" and "more ice."

John Peatfield, president of the club, spoke briefly and described the occasion as "a memorable night in the annals of curling in Banff."

The oldest member of the club, 84-year-old Bill Hargraves, threw the first stone with Don Coombs, Banff park superintendent, holding the broom and Mr. Peatfield and Bill Laskaris sweeping.

A Look at the Game

Art Dunsmore is a curling fan of many years' standing, and he's a diligent convener for District Eleven, running the district in a fashion that the others might well copy.

Dunsmore reasons, quite rightly, that curling plays a part in the lives of hundreds of thousands of people. So he takes a studied, analytical look at the modern curling club.

Here's what he sees:

"There has been a rapid growth of curling in Canada, a growth that is extending to other countries of the world. Everyone has spare time that can be applied to hobbies or recreation—or put to no use at all. I like to think that the local curling club has something to offer its members that will enrich their life and give memories that will provide pleasure forever.

"Curling is a game that has been played for 100 years or more, and originally was considered a gentleman's sport. Now men and women, boys and girls, young and old, enjoy the sport.

"With the great growth, and the artificial ice that is in use six months of the year, the point has been reached where the local curling club will have to streamline its activities, adjusting it to handle all the new problems that will have to be faced.

"It is important, too, that we know what a good curling club member is. He is a person who co-operates with his rink so that there is the utmost harmony. He lets his skip know when he can't be present and he takes a sincere interest in his club.

"It is best that the members realize that they don't belong to the club any more than the club belongs, in part, to them."

Mr. Dunsmore's words might well be heeded.

Co-operation is the Key

The success of the annual depends upon the conveners in each district, who in turn must depend upon the officials of each club.

For the three years that the annual has been published, it has been extremely difficult at times to secure information on some of the clubs.

The conveners, of course, must assemble the information in their own districts, but they can do this only with excellent co-operation. Sometimes this hasn't been received.

By now it has been established that a branch annual will be published each fall. Thus, the secretary or some responsible person at each club must maintain records of the club's activities which will be easily available when the conveners request it.

Trying to report a club's activities when the season is over is a difficult task. But if records are kept throughout the year, then the information is easily compiled.

Forms were sent out this year indicating the sort of information which is required from each club. If this questionnaire is kept in mind throughout the season, then the difficult job of preparing the annual will be much simpler next time.

District Seven still has one of the highest proportions of natural ice. Bassano, Brooks and Gleichen are the only ones with artificial ice. In a revision of the district since last season, Scandia has been added and now will participate in playoffs in that district.

Some familiar faces represented the district in Consols play. From Bassano, Norm Dalsto, Aubrey Gore, Ralph Burrows and Cliff MacLean. In the schoolboys, it was the Bassano rink of Don Young, Dale Heryford, Ed Maurer and Wayne Arrison.

The Gleichen club reports that interest is falling off a bit, but officials are hopeful that the actual start of the season will put an end to the apathy. Art Simpson won the first event at the Gleichen bonspiel, with Morgan Johnson of Vulcan taking the second and Dick Plumer the third. On the Gleichen rink in the district Consols playdowns were F. Sammons, James Steward, A. F. Quennell and Tom Clifford.

Scandia had 31 rinks in its bonspiel with Art Howg winning the primary event. With him were E. B. Peterson, Floyd Howg and Dennis Peterson. Other event winners were Otto Wallewin and A. Wolfer.

The club has been hampered over the past few seasons because of unusually mild weather, and artificial ice seems a few seasons off.

The Duchess club had 32 rinks to its bonspiel. On the Consols rink in the district playoffs were Jerry Sugden, Bernie Scheuerman, Leonard Rasmuson and Rolland Sugden. On the high school rink were B. Barnes, H. Sherman, J. Maldaner and Sharon Sugden.

The Tilley bonspiel was called off because of the weather.

At Rosemary, George Sawatsky, Ralph Burrows and Kaz Kinoshita were the event winners in a 24-rink bonspiel. There were no entries from the club in the district playoffs.

Bassano drew 42 rinks in its largest of three bonspiels during the year. Lloyd Hobbs won the first event, C. Beaudin the second and Art Simpson the third with Hobbs winning the aggregate. The Bassano club this year plans to promote inter-club games with other clubs in the district, hoping this will revive the interest that falls off after the first of the year because of the bonspiels.

At the 18-rink Bow City bonspiel, Ed Gordon won the first event, Maurice Hendrickson the second and Tim Ost the third.

The men's district Consols champions also experienced a measure of success in the branch bonspiel at Calgary. They were Dave Frayn, Mil Munro, Doug Bateman and Clarence Longway.

The district TPC champions were also from Springbank—Don Bateman, Ron Forrest, Euan Hodgetts and Dennis Toews.

POINTS REVIVAL AT BONSPIEL

After an absence of many years, a points competition was revised at the 58th annual bonspiel of the Alberta branch, RCCC.

The North Hill Club was used exclusively for the points competition for two days.

Past President Graeme Smith was the prime instigator behind the return of the points competition, pointing out that the competition is making a return and the fact that the curlers of today generally are required to make only two shots.

The points competition has a maximum of 72 points.

This is an outline of the points competition:

STRIKING—Stone placed on the Tee with its inner edge 2 feet from the centre. If struck to count 1; if struck out of the 12-foot circle to count 2.

INWICKING—One stone being placed on the tee, and another with its inner edge 2 feet 6 inches from the tee, and its fore-edge on a line drawn from the centre at an angle of 45 degrees with the centre line; if the played stone strikes the latter on the inside, to count 1; if it perceptibly moves both stones, to count 2.

DRAWING—If the stone played lies within or on the 12-foot circle, to count 1, if within or on the 8-foot circle to count 2.

WICK AND CURL IN—A stone being placed with its inner edge 6 feet distant from the tee, and its fore-edge on a line making an angle of 45 degrees with the central line; if the stone is struck and the played stone curls on or within the 12-foot circle, to count 1; if struck and played stone rests on or within the 8-foot circle, to count 2.

RAISING—A stone being placed with its centre on the central line and its inner edge 8 feet distant from the tee; if struck within or on the 12-foot circle, to count 1; if struck within or on the 8-foot circle to count 2.

DRAWING THROUGH A PORT—One stone to be placed with its inner edge on the central line, 10 feet in front of the tee, and another stone placed parallel thereto, and with its inner edge 2 feet from the central line; if the played stone passes between these two stones without touching either, and rests within or on the 12-foot circle, to count 1; if within or on the 8-foot circle to count 2.

CHIPPING THE WINNER—A stone being placed on the tee and another 10 feet distant, and with its inner edge just touching the central line, and half guarding the one on the tee, and a third stone being placed 4 feet behind the tee, with its inner edge touching the central line, but on the opposite side from that on which the guard is placed; if the played stone strikes the stone placed behind the tee, to count 1; if it strikes the stone on the tee, to count 2.

OUTWICK—A stone being placed with its inner edge touching the outer circle and its centre on a line making an angle of 45 degrees with the central line, if struck within or on the outer circle, it shall count 1; if struck within or on the 4-foot circle, it shall count 2.

GUARDING—A stone, to be guarded, to be placed with its fore-edge on the tee. If the stone played rests within 6 inches of the central line to count 1; if on the line to count 2. It must be over the Hog Line and must not touch the stone to be guarded.

CHAP AND LIE—If the stone placed on the sweeping score with its inner edge one foot from the tee, be struck out of the 12-foot circle, and the played stone rests within or on the same circle, to count 1; if struck out of the 12-foot circle, and the played stone rests within or on the 8-foot circle, to count 2.

After a fairly hefty run of playoffs in the last two years (including two Canadian championships) Calgary this season will host only one of the four traditional playoffs. The Southern Alberta Taylor, Pearson and Carson will be held in the city January 24-26. The southern Consols goes to Lethbridge and the two provincial finals are scheduled for Edmonton.

The city now has a total of 116 sheets of artificial ice, an astonishing figure. The two newest clubs are the Westwinds with ten sheets and the Garrison with four.

The Westwinds, which has plans to become a vast family club, was open half of the last season. As yet, only the curling and the tennis facilities are available. An inaugural bonspiel was held last year which was successful and during the summer the inside of the rink was painted.

The Garrison Club, located near the army's public married quarters, was opened last year in a Butler hut. It has 120 members, many of them military personnel, but it also has a good rental business.

The Lincoln Park club is mainly for service personnel and its renovations during the summer included improving the plant equipment.

Ernie McPherson, owner-operator of the Elbow Valley Club, reports that he's completely booked in the evenings. The downstairs lounge has been finished since last season and the entire building has been re-insulated.

The Glencoe, which suffered a disastrous fire last spring, should be back in business this year, although possibly not when the curling season begins. The beautiful new building will again have eight sheets and there's a chance that the club will sport the first electronic scoreboard in the world.

The Big Four building, under the direction of Jack Arbour, still ranks as the largest of its kind in the world. The sixth annual harvest bonspiel was extremely successful and it is firmly entrenched as the official opening bonspiel of the year. No renovations during the year. As one official said, "How can we improve on a plant like this one?"

The Calgary Curling Club, which manages to produce some of the south's best curlers, spent the summer fixing up its main floor lounge. It held a mixed bonspiel for the first time last year and the 64 spots were quickly filled.

The Petroleum Curling Club was revived last year after being dormant for some time. It has 80 rinks, all members earning their living in the oil business. Sixty of the rinks curl once a week, twenty twice a week—all at the Big Four. The club holds no bonspiel because it doesn't want to conflict with the regular Oilmen's frolic, instead just holds playoffs.

The Winter Club still has one of the busiest curling sections, and its twelve sheets are taxed to capacity. Minor renovations during the year to the coffee shop and observation section, and a mixed bonspiel closed the season.

The North Hill Curling Club spent some months and around $40,000 putting a social room on the second storey. It will be a swank addition to the club.

Seven rinks participated in the Taylor, Pearson and Carson playdowns last spring. The winning rink, which represented the district in the Southern Alberta playdowns, was skipped by Tom Glendinning of Strathmore. With him were Doug Slater, Ray Vermunt and Bruce Klaiber.

The British Consols playoffs were held at Rockyford, the home club of Convener Art Dunsmore. Eight clubs took part. Joe Appleyard won the double knockout competition, earning a berth in the Southern Alberta playdowns. On Appleyard's rink were Jock Reid, Ken Tilley and E. Litke.

Already, Convener Dunsmore has lined up several dates. The TPC competition will be run off December 27-28 at Strathmore. There will be an ice rental of $2 per game.

Beiseker will host the district's British Consols play-offs January 22-23 and there will be a $3 per game ice rental.

The 1963 district annual meeting goes to Rockyford on Sunday, March 24. There will be a lunch following the 2 o'clock meeting.

The last annual meeting was held at Strathmore March 28. Convener Dunsmore reports a good discussion regarding regulations to cover local bonspiels, but there weren't enough clubs represented to set up any rules.

Convener Dunsmore is hopeful for an excellent turnout at the March meeting, pointing out that the district is only as strong as the club representatives. So many problems can be ironed out, he insists, if each club will send a representative familiar with the situation at his own club.

SKIP McTAVISH SAYS . . .

"Mon, a lead that'll draw his stane tae the button is worth his weight in haggis tae ony rink."

Getting away to a good start is half the battle in many things—from the "roarin' game" to money management. A first-class lead in your personal financial bonspiel is a Bank of Montreal Savings Account. Lead off with a regular deposit in this account and your income will "red the ice" of your expenses every month.

Remember the sage advice of Skip McTavish:

"Mony a mickle maks a muckle." Being freely translated this reads: "Put a little regularly into a B of M savings account and watch it grow!"

THE NEW LOOK

There will be a new look for the annual Alberta branch, RCCC, bonspiel when it kicks off Feb. 25, 1963.

The changes, drawn up by Drawmaster Graeme Smith, a past president of the branch, are not only novel in Canadian curling circles but also indicate a new philosophy for the game.

The revamped bonspiel makes provision for the fact that some rinks are better than others, and that the good, older curlers, don't necessarily want to play the good younger curlers.

To be staged on an "experimental basis" this season, the affair will be split into three sections of varying age groups. There will be three separate grand aggregates, only 56 sheets of ice in use for each draw (none in the Big Four), more events (19 in all) and thus more prizes ($7,500 total), a maximum entry of 288 rinks. And it will all be run off in five days, Monday through Friday, instead of the usual six.

"The shorter bonspiel should provide less expense for outside rinks," Smith said. "We want to get the out-of-town curlers back into the event."

The new three-section system is also designed to balance competition and attract many of the older students of the game.

The A section, which will be open to any rink, will offer eight events and a grand aggregate. It will be run in a double string—each rink playing in two events at the same time. Maximum entry will be 128 rinks.

Entries will be required to play a minimum of seven games and a maximum of 16. The daily maximum number of games, running Monday to Friday, works out to 3-2-3-4-4. The entry fee—$40 a rink and prizes on the line will total $4,500.

Section B, run in a single string of five events, and aggregate, also will have a 128-rink entry limit. Three members of each rink in this section, though, must be 40 years of age or more.

A total of $2,500 in prizes will be up for grabs with the entry fee set at $30 a rink. And there'll be a minimum of five games, a maximum of 10 and a daily maximum of two games a day over five days.

The C division, a smaller scuffle, will be reserved for curlers 60 years or more with each rink required to total 260 years or more.

Offering $550 in prizes in a single string of three events, plus aggregate, squads will play only one game a day until the Friday, when semi-finals and finals in each event will be staged.

There's a three-game minimum in C section, a six-game maximum, an entry limit of 32 rinks and an entrance fee of $16 per foursome.

The Manning-Egleston Trophy will go to the aggregate winner in section A; winner of B section will receive the Birks Trophy; and for section C the Smith Memorial Trophy will be presented in honor of Graeme Smith's father.

The originator of the plan, Graeme Smith, sums it all up by saying: "It's simply a case of keeping up with the times."

Red Deer rinks won both the British Consols and the Taylor, Pearson and Carson competitions last spring. Winning the schoolboy was the rink of Chris Jensen, Gary Jordan, Dick Keikinen and John Stone.

The Consols playoffs were held at Innisfail with Cy Little topping the field. With him were Graham Ford, Bill Reid and Al Baker.

Bowden officially opened its three sheets of artificial ice last year. Because of the installation, the club got off to a slow start but did end up with 16 full rinks. The club ran a few money bonspiels last season, and also rents some ice to the refinery staff at Bowden.

At the Innisfail club last year, there were 28 men's rinks and nine women's rinks. In addition to the annual bonspiel, there is a farmer's bonspiel which is one of the best attended in the province. The lounge in the basement was completed last year and partially furnished. The club is now completely debt-free, having paid off the cost of the artificial ice and renovations.

Penhold should have its four sheets of artificial ice in operation by the time the season starts. Officials, who didn't let the artificial ice contract until late in the summer, were hoping for a November 15 completion. The club has some ice rental business with Red Deer and Edmonton and Calgary.

The club at the RCAF station has artificial ice and this year the building was insulated. The club this season for the first time, in February, will host the Tri-Service Bonspiel which draws entries from the armed forces all over Alberta.

At Red Deer, the club is building a 24x60 addition which will be used as a locker room and lounge. Alterations have also been made in the waiting area and heaters have been installed in the playing area.

The Red Deer Curl-A-Roc club, owned by Hube Gooder, has fine club room facilities and is the home base of many leagues. It is further evidence that there is a place in curling for privately owned clubs.

The club at Spruce View is largely a rural one, catering almost exclusively to mixed curling. The annual bonspiel is well attended.

Benalto last year had 10 full rinks.

A LOOK INTO THE PAST

First record of curling in Calgary takes us back to the winter of 1886, over 75 years ago. The locale was a skating rink operated by Frank Claxton and located on Angus avenue, the 6th avenue of today. This rink was located east of the old Hull Opera House at the corner of Centre street and 6th avenue. About five years later, the old Alberta Rink was erected, which was situated east of Centre street on 5th avenue and was for many years the centre of curling in Calgary.

Formally organized in 1888, the Calgary Curling Club was affiliated with the Manitoba branch until the formation of the Alberta branch on January 23, 1904. Father of the Alberta branch was Col. Walker who, together with R. Secord, M.L.A. of Edmonton, was a patron of the original body.

Those who participate in Calgary's bonspiel nowadays are very familiar with the wonderful prizes which are up for the taking in the various events, but for the purposes of contrast let's go back to the third annual bonspiel of the Alberta branch back in January, 1907, when H. S. McLeod was president. There were eight events plus the Grand Aggregate.

These were the prizes competed for in those days—Tetley Tea Tankards, Swinging Tea Kettles with Spirit Lamps, Silver Flasks, Pipes, Gold Locketts, Carving Sets, Cases of Scotch Whisky (valued at $13!), Soup Tureens, Fancy Vests, Steins, 400 Pharaoh Cigars (value $25), Manicure Sets, Curling Stones, Curling Stone Boxes, Champagne (four bottles), Made-to-order Suits (value $25), Silk Umbrellas and Tea.

For the winner of the Grand Aggregate, four gold medals plus two boxes of Fancy Package Biscuits, one box to go to the Calgary curler making the largest score in points and the other to the visiting curler making the high score.

Yes, the Calgary bonspiel has come a long, long way since those early days, and the sport's popularity has gone up by leaps and bounds. The fact remains, however, that the spirit of those who pioneered the game has carried over to today, that their memory is kept ever fresh by those who indulge in curling today.

Bonspiel Time

PLANNED BONSPIEL DRAWS

By GRAEME SMITH

Many curlers would like to go to smaller bonspiels but hesitate to take the better part of a week to do so. This is especially true if they can anticipate only one game a day at the beginning of the spiel.

On the other hand, if they could be held off for the first day or two, or could commute, knowing that they wouldn't have to make a trip every day, they would be more willing to enter.

Drawmasters are always faced with the problem of accommodating visiting rinks, and sometimes the home ones too, and while they try to do their best, unless pre-planning has been done, it is often impossible to grant all the favors asked.

One way to ensure a workable solution is to plan the draw in advance. Let's take a simple example—an entry of 32 rinks on 4 sheets with 3 competitions.

For the first event only, the names are drawn from a hat and entered as drawn, except that any rink asking to be left off the first day is put down in the bottom half, starting with position No. 17.

For the second and third events, rinks that were in the top half of the draw automatically drop to the top half of the secondary events; the bottom half the same.

Rinks No. 1 to No. 8 play in draws 1, 3, 5; Rinks No. 9 to No. 16 play in draws 2, 4, 6: the winners staying in Event A and the losers dropping to lower events.

The next 8 rinks would duplicate the above on Draws No. 2, 4, 6.

Rinks 17 to 32 wouldn't appear until the second day, while survivors of the first day's play wouldn't return until the third day.

Variations of the above would have to be made for larger entries, splitting the groups into three or four, or playing two games a day, but the same principle would apply.

The secret, then, is to be sure that rinks drop from previous events into the same comparative position in lower events. This can be done in a double string of events by playing a game in one series, then in the second series and so on.

SOUTHERN SCHOOLBOYS FALL SHORT

The schoolboys, in the fashion of their male counterparts, were unable to achieve anything on a provincial basis during the past season.

A rink from Drumheller in District 15 won the Southern Alberta Taylor, Pearson and Carson title, but bowed out in the provincial finals at the Winter Club to Brian Taylor from Edmonton Victoria Composite and his rink of Ray Kent, Ed. Poznasky and Doug Rattray.

The Edmonton rink scored a narrow win over Clark during the provincial round-robin and then continued undefeated, thus eliminating the need for a playoff.

On the Southern Alberta championship rink with Clark were Don Norman at third, Ron Sorensen at second and Monty Bryant at lead. Clark led his mates through the southern playoffs in undefeated fashion.

Their last victory was a 9-2 decision over the B event winner, Chris Jensen of Red Deer. Jensen won the B section final with a 9-5 win over Don Young of Bassano.

NEW SENIORS' COMPETITION

The Alberta branch, RCCC, is leading the way in an effort to declare a Canadian seniors curling champion.

The branch feels that such a competition, modelled along the lines of the one for the Macdonald Brier Tankard, will become a reality within a few years.

It is holding a competition this season in an attempt to determine the amount of interest in such an event.

Because it is not known what the response will be, the playoff procedure will necessarily be limited this year. Here are the pertinent points:

- Entries will be accepted only from affiliated members.
- Depending on the number of entries and their location, a series of playoffs will be arranged by areas to reduce the number of participating rinks to 16 by January 28, 1963.
- These 16 rinks will play a modified double knock-out draw in Banff Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 1, 2, 3. From this competition will come a Southern Alberta seniors champion.
- A playoff may be held later with the Northern Alberta winner.
- British Conosols rules will be used wherever possible.
- All members of each rink must be from the same club and their aggregate age must total 210 years with no one member of the rink under 50 years as of January 1, 1963.
- All games will be 10 ends.
- A fee of $10 (to be sent to branch secretary Charlie Scott at 1912 - 26th Ave. S.W., Calgary) must accompany each entry.
- Any cost of ice rental will be shared by participants.
- All rinks must pay their own expenses.
- Suitable trophies and prizes will be awarded.
- Deadline for entries is January 7, 1963.

DISTRICT PLAYOFFS

The Alberta branch, R.C.C.C., is divided into 16 districts for playoff purposes. Fourteen of them are outside Calgary, two of them in the city.

Playoffs (both Consols and schoolboy) are handled by a convener in each district who also acts as a liaison man between the clubs in his district and the branch.

District winners meet in the Southern Alberta playoffs in a double knockout draw. The winner then advances into the Alberta final (against representatives from the Alberta Curling Association, the Peace Curling Association and the Northwest Territories Curling Association) for the right to represent the province in the Canadian Curling Championships.

THE PROPOSAL . . .

At the next annual meeting of the Dominion Curling Association, scheduled for Brandon in March, the following motion concerning a Code of Ethics will be moved by Colin A. Campbell, long a prominent figure in DCA circles.

It is regarded as one of the most important matters ever to come before the DCA.

Here is the wording of the motion:

CODE OF ETHICS:

"A curler in good standing and eligible to play in Association competitions is one who plays the game solely as a non-remunerative or non-profit-making sport and is known as an amateur curler.

1. An amateur curler may not play in a curling competition with the intention or hope of accepting either directly or indirectly money or its equivalent as a prize, testimonial or compensation, or accept a prize for any one event of a retail value exceeding $150 or $600 per rink and of a nature making it readily convertible into money.
2. An amateur curler may not receive compensation directly or indirectly for giving instructions in curling, either orally, in writing, by pictures or other demonstrations to either individuals or groups.
3. To be eligible to compete in affiliated association competitions a registered curler in good standing must have been a bona fide continuous resident of the playdown area since August 1st prior to the commencement of the curling season. Exception to the above are Government, Bank, Institution, and Company transfer of Employees, and the Armed Services, University and College Students.

Expense Money

A reasonable amount of expenses may be accepted:

1. As a qualified representative on a provincial rink competing in a Canadian Curling Championship Competition sanctioned and approved by the D.C.A.
2. As a representative on a provincial rink competing in playdowns, sanctioned and approved by the provincial association.
3. As a representative of the Dominion Curling Association competing in International, Olympic or other curling events sanctioned and approved by the Dominion Curling Association.

Reinstatement to Amateur Status

A curler who ceases to be an amateur may apply to his provincial association for reinstatement to amateur status.

1. A player may not be reinstated more than once.
2. A player shall not normally be eligible for reinstatement, if he has been a recognized professional five or more years.
3. An applicant shall not normally be eligible for reinstatement until one year has elapsed from the date of his violation of the definition of an amateur curler.

Gambling

The curling associations disapprove of gambling in connection with curling competitions because of the possible harm it can do to the best interests of the game.

Curling is the game that promotes friendly rivalry, good sportsmanship and fair play, and when it is played for gambling motives evils arise to injure both the game and the individual players.

All members, clubs and affiliated associations are urged to discourage gambling in connection with curling competitions".

This code to become effective August 1st, 1963.

(signed) COLIN A. CAMPBELL, March 7, 1962.

... THE REBUTTAL

The executive of the Alberta branch, Royal Caledonian Curling Club, in a move endorsed by the membership-at-large at the semi-annual meeting, will vote against the proposed code of ethics at the annual meeting of the DCA in March.

The stand of the branch represents a change in thinking by many of its members who earlier were in favor of the proposal.

The branch is of the opinion that the notice of motion which pertains to the code of ethics should be rejected in its present form.

The executive of the branch has appraised the motion from every possible standpoint and its decision was reached only after much discussion and much soul-searching. These men are no die-hard fanatics. They are interested only in what is best for the game.

Generally, they feel that rules of the kind proposed by the code of ethics are outdated and can only lead, if adopted, to shamateurism and hypocrisy which have manifested themselves in other sports which have attempted to "over-legislate."

It is the opinion of the branch that any such code of ethics would affect only a handful of men. Thus, simply because of a few men, there is the danger of a wide, possibly permanent breach being opened in Dominion Curling Association ranks. The game will suffer, is the feeling, if such a breach develops.

Insistence upon a nationwide residence rule also appears to be unrealistic. The notice of motion will ask that a player be in continuous residence in a province from August 1 in order to qualify for that province's playdowns.

The Alberta branch, RCCC, feels that this discriminates against the agricultural worker who takes up city employment each fall, almost certainly well after the August 1 date. The western curling associations now have residence rules established at much more realistic dates, and they have worked well.

It is felt that the rules as presently drawn up would only serve, in the end, to harm the game much more than they would benefit it. Curling is a game of honor, as the branch points out, and every effort should be made to keep it that way.

Curling has avoided the professional-amateur pitfalls that have hamstrung other sports—such as golf and tennis where subterfuge has come to be accepted as commonplace.

If new rules are needed for curling, they should be drawn up with an eye to the situation as it exists today, not on the basis of amateur rules which have long since proven unacceptable.

Curling, which has grown into one of Canada's premier sports without a plethora of rules and regulations, has plenty of time to search vigorously for an acceptable solution to the biggest problem it has yet confronted.

for Curlers...

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Leonard Hill was elected president of Alberta branch at a meeting in the Glencoe. He took over when two other men had to turn down the job because of ill-health. J. E. Loucks was secretary and advised the meeting that the branch would be unable to take the 1943 Brier because of the Second World War. . . . W. D. Cheyne was the last undefeated rink to topple in the branch bonspiel. His first defeat came at the hands of Tom Lorimer.

CPR curlers were off to Field for an annual competition, and the Calgary rinks won all four games, something they had never before been able to do. . . . Drumheller was running its 22nd annual bonspiel, and there were 16 visiting rinks and 11 from the town.

Glenn Williams won the Southern Alberta Consols title, defeating Jimmy Linstead 16-9 in the final. On the Williams' rink were Bob Manahan, Len Haw and Bobby Mills. The provincial final had to be switched so that it wouldn't conflict with Mills' wedding. But it didn't matter because Johnny Slavik won the Alberta title and went on to represent the province at Quebec City, the last Brier until after the war.

In the final of a veterans' bonspiel in Calgary were W. E. Donnelly and Henry Poile. . . . The R. C. Old rink of Blairmore won the aggregate in the annual Crowsnest bonspiel. . . . At Trochu, the aggregate winner was N. Danforth. . . . W. J. Edgar of Innisfail went to the finals of one of the primary events in the Pacific Coast bonspiel at Vancouver.

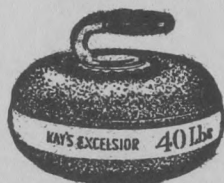

Tom Anderson of Banff and Warren Cooper of Nanton were among the visiting skips at the Dr. Merritt bonspiel at the Glencoe. But Basil Hills won the competition. . . . Charlie Sauter of Vauxhall and Orwell Stewart of Macleod won the primary events in the Lethbridge bonspiel.

SOUTHERN CONSOLS STORY

The Southern Alberta British Consols playoffs, held at the Red Deer Curling Club for the first time, wound up as an all-Calgary Curling Club battle.

Jimmy Shields defeated Hugh Brown for the right to represent the Alberta branch, RCCC, against the northern winner, Hec Gervais.

The Shields rink of Ron Northcott, Ron Baker and Fred Storey (all of the rink but Northcott represented Alberta in the 1960 Canadian curling championship) swept through the A section undefeated and then knocked off the Brown rink of Bernie Sparks, Lloyd Woolley and Don Thonger, who won the B section final 13-3 over toughie Norm Dalsto of Bassano.

Shields' win over Brown in the final was a 5-4, 13-end victory with only one deuce scored.

Brown was knocked out of the A event in the first round when he was defeated by the Big Valley rink of Lloyd Duncan.

President of the club during the playoff was Hugh Spence and he and his committee did a bang-up job of putting on an excellent show.

One of the finest games in Consols history was saved, it seemed, for Red Deer fans. Never more than one point separated the two Calgary rinks at any time and it was a come-from-behind victory for the nerveless Shields, who tied it up on the 12th and then won on the extra end.

Shields made a great shot to blank the 11th and preserve his last rock advantage. In the 12th he had an open house to draw to tie the game, setting the stage for the 13th.

With the house open, Brown called on third Lloyd Woolley to eliminate a Shields guard stone stationed on the centre line, a foot in front of the rings. But Woolley, with his first rock, curled fractions too much, nudged the guard over a few feet and whistled on through.

Northcott replaced the centre line guard and again Woolley went for it. But this time his rock didn't catch the swing of the ice. He hit it almost squarely and stuck.

Shields promptly planted an in-turn draw into the back of the four-foot directly behind the guard. Brown selected the out-turn and skinned by the guard for a perfection hit and stay.

This forced Shields to go for the button draw, again with the in-turn. And he couldn't have been better had he carried the stone down himself. He caught a bite of the one-foot, behind the guard and inches in front of Brown's rock.

Brown's only shot was the out-turn hit again. But the Shields' counter this time was more hidden than before. Hugh elected to take a little more ice and a little less weight. But the difference in weight brought him to wreck on the fatal short rock.

A NEW CONCEPT IN CURLING EQUIPMENT MARTINSTONES

Saskatchewan's fabulous curling Richardsons, who realize the tremendous importance of dependable curling equipment, gave Martinstones a rugged workout under the most exacting playing conditions.

The result? . . . an enthusiastic endorsement by Skip Ernie Richardson: ". . . They're equally as good, if not better than the imported granite stones in all respects. We have no hesitation in recommending their use to every curling club."

Signed, "ERNIE RICHARDSON"

Herbie Olson, Jimmy Shields and Fred Storey (with help from a couple of leads and a sweeping replacement) will have a record of 31 straight victories in Alberta branch, RCCC, annual bonspiels when the 59th edition unfolds next spring.

It's an unprecedented string of victories in a bonspiel that attracts its share of packed rinks.

In 1961 (with Westy Westmore at lead), Olson and his mates won 16 straight. In 1962 (with Bill Levins at lead, Ron Baker as a sweeping replacement and Shields taking over skipping duties midway through the 'spiel when Olson broke an ankle) the rink won another 15 straight.

In both the primary events, the Hudson's Bay and the Calgary Brewing, the Olson rink turned back the Cowies who are no strangers to the winners' circle in this frolic either. The Cowies, with Harold Worth on the tēe-head, racked up back-to-back aggregate victories in 1958 and 1959.

The Birks' visitors' aggregate was won by Jock Sutherland of Eston, even though the rink was eliminated Friday. But its 9-2 record held up. On the rink were Lanny Snyder, Wendell Bayne and Frank Longridge.

The seniors' event proved very popular, with the Calgary Club and North Hill rinks emerging with honors in the two sections.

Harry Patten, with Bill Topley, Tom Dodds and Neil Campbell on the front end, won the A group totalling 29½ points in the three-game scramble. The total age of the Patten rink is 281 years.

The B group prize went to Wilkie Sharpe of the North Hill who amassed 28 points. With Sharpe were Ralph Stone, Bill Graham and Louis Roppel.

Tom Lebeau and J. Gainer, both of the CCC, were runners-up in the A section. Second and third spots in the B play were taken by Max Rutherford of the Calgary and Jack Smith of the North Hill.
